

INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES (CHILE)

The key sectors of the national economy are: mining, energy, agriculture (especially wine), road infrastructure, construction.

No privatization program underway at the moment.

The sectors that represent major investment opportunities are: renewable energies and waste treatment, electricity, biotechnology, health, tourism, telecommunications and online sales.

The sectors prohibited or with few opportunities for foreign investment are: For security reasons

Chile imposes certain restrictions on investors in the fields of nuclear energy, hydrocarbons, defence, maritime transport and mining. In the telecommunications sector
Permits are required.

Investor incentives: Incentives are available for investors to remote geographical areas and towards the information technology sector, including the co-financing of feasibility studies, as well as incentives for the purchase of land in industrial areas, the recruitment of local labour and facilitating the financing of projects..